AMUSEMENTS

JACKIE COGGAN AT THE BUTLER TODAY

The long-awaited production of "Peck's Bad Boy" with lovable little Jackie Coggan in the star role, will be the feature offering at the Butler today. As the mischievous lad who makes a lot of trouble for his parents, Jackie Coggan is said to have an even more delightful and amusing performance than that which he gave in "Home and Home" and "The Kid". "Peck's Bad Boy" is an adaptation of the work of the late Charles Whiting. The children were attracted to that memorable humorist.

Some other offerings have been arranged with only a minimum of the "Peck's Bad Boy" at the Butler today. "The Kid" is a story of a boy who is sent to the orphanage and the story of his life there. "The Kid" is a story of a boy who is sent to the orphanage and the story of his life there. "The Kid" is a story of a boy who is sent to the orphanage and the story of his life there.

SOVIETS WILL TIGHTEN REINS OVER CHURCHES

(By Associated Press.)
MOSCOW, July 27.—Russian soviet government officials have decided to exert stricter control over the churches in Russia, according to Moscow newspapers received here. A recent number of the Izvestia says that women are to be allowed only in the condition that they are of a strictly religious character.

It appears that the soviet government while permitting to permit religious worship is to prevent rival activities in the church buildings in the shape of lectures on communist propaganda.

EL PASO MEN ARE NOW MEMBERS OF LUAREZ C. OF C.

(By Associated Press.)
EL PASO, Texas, July 27.—Fifty El Paso men and firms are members of the chamber of commerce of Juarez, Mexico, across the Rio Grande from here. At the last directors' meeting of the chamber of commerce it was declared that what benefited one helped the other and that the interests of Juarez and El Paso were closely related. Hence it was decided that El Paso chamber of commerce should canvass for members in Juarez. A dozen firms in Juarez were then have been allied with the local chamber.

Regular convocation tonight, Wednesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. By order of the H. P. E. D. MILLS, Secretary.

TONOPAH BALL CLUB TO MEET MINA SUNDAY

What promises to be the fastest baseball game of the season is scheduled for Sunday at the local ball diamond when the Mina team meets the Tonopah aggregation in the 11th and game played between the two clubs so far this year. The local boys are diligently working out each evening in order to develop their batting eyes and everyone is on edge. The Tonopah pitching staff has been greatly strengthened by the acquisition of husky "Smoky" Johnson, bringing that department up to three. It is rumored that several new faces will be seen in the lineup this Sunday. The boys will need all of their swatting lamps for Douglas, who serves 'em for Mina has a reputation as a speed demon. The hot weather has taken the kinks out of the wings of the Tonopah boys, and they all say they will be on their toes when the curtain rises. It is to be hoped the local fans will turn out en masse Sunday and cheer the boys to a victory over their Mineral county opponents.

The Stillman divorce case probably will be postponed until fall. Possibly time is needed to find more co-respondents.

INVESTIGATION MAY REVIVE THE WHALING GRADE

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—A recent investigation by the U. S. Fish and Game Commission into the whaling industry has revived the whaling industry in San Francisco. The investigation was conducted by the U. S. Fish and Game Commission and the results were published in a report. The report states that the whaling industry is still profitable and that it is worth reviving.

HAMILTON REID GETS VINDICATION IN COURT

Hamilton Reid, master mechanic at the Tonopah Extension, who with J. P. O'Brien and H. D. Fontaine, was tried yesterday before Justice Cuddy upon the charge of assault and battery upon the person of C. W. Porter, an engineer at the Victor shaft, was vindicated at the conclusion of the hearing by Justice Cuddy.

The morning sheet with its staff of news gatherers failed to discover and make mention of the acquittal of Mr. Reid, but would have its readers believe that he was held over until tomorrow afternoon to await the judgment of the court.

There was not one scintilla of evidence that Mr. Reid wielded a hammer, striking Porter on the wrist, but, on the other hand, Porter testified that the hammer stunt was performed by O'Brien. He did accuse Mr. Reid of striking him in the face with his hand, but all other witnesses to the controversy testified exactly the opposite.

Mr. Reid is a large and powerful man, while Porter is quite small, and the friends of Mr. Reid now are joking him regarding his strength, having been of the opinion that if he threw his mighty weight against that good right arm of his, the services of an undertaker would be necessary.

Although the morning sheet would have its handful of readers believe that Mr. Reid resorted to the use of the hammer in question, that was the first rumor the testimony had shown that such was the case. It was the usual misapprehension of veracity on the part of that sheet when it comes to reporting any proceeding in which law-abiding citizens sometimes become involved unavoidably.

Mr. Reid has been a resident of Nevada for 15 years and has always been considered very mild-tempered, and the fact that he is 47 years of age and never before in his career was involved against the peace and dignity of the people, the charge came as a great surprise to his legion of friends. Mr. Reid did not deny he had forcibly ejected Porter, the complaining witness, from the engine house, and that he did it upon three different occasions, leading him to the door. He admitted that had he not been active in stopping the pugilistic encounter, Porter might have fared much worse than he did, and his evidence was substantiated by half a dozen witnesses.

Following the hearing two complaints charging use of threatening language were issued against Porter. They were sworn to by P. J. O'Brien and H. D. Fontaine, the other two men who were tried yesterday. The warrants were placed in the hands of Constable Cochrane this afternoon with instructions to bring the man into court.

STILL TAKE OUT LICENSES FOR SELLING BOOZE

(By Associated Press.)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 27.—Holders of liquor licenses in Los Angeles evidently are hoping that somehow, sometime, something may happen to make the city legally wet, or damp. This was indicated here when 29 holders of permits asked that these be renewed for one year, beginning July 1.

Their applications were granted by the board of police commissioners, but it is said the action is only a formality. It serves to maintain the legal rights to the licenses should the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act be declared void. No fees are charged the licensees for holding the papers.

Of the total, 36 were wholesale dealers in times past, and the remaining permits are held by owners of restaurants and cafes.
